Are you looking for a data center rack enclosure offering all the latest innovations at a reasonable price?

Developed for the modern data center on a budget, the HP 11000 G2 Series Rack provides the innovations you need while maintaining a focus on simplicity. With a 3000 pound capacity, the welded frame is based on previous designs for durability, and includes the advance perforation door of the Intelligent Series Racks for better airflow. The cosmetics have been streamlined to compliment almost any data center. We also kept the new rear bracket to ease installation of cable management and power distribution. The new HP 11000 G2 Series Rack is also compatible with HP Location Discovery Services to speed implementation of new equipment and speed asset tracking. All in one simple, universal rack for all your data center needs.
